Russian Actions

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

SOVIET RUSSIA, marching up the hill and then down again, continues as the prize enigma at San Francisco and in Europe. Trying to locate her position is like trying to put the little drops of mercury in the proper spots of the old-time puzzle boxes.

No country is so outspoken about the affairs of others. Hardly a country but has received her advice about affairs which once were termed domestic, although it is true that now there is hardly anything without international implications.

Yet Russia declines to accept a charter providing for discussion of "any matter within the sphere of international relations" and wishes the assembly to consider only matters "relating to the maintenance of international peace and security."

The latter phrase admittedly is broader, but since everything involved in it is a potential factor in the latter, it is not clear why anyone in a sincere and determined search for peace should object.

Those who see every Russian move as something sinister probably will jump to the conclusion that she is seeking to prevent assembly discussion of the cases of Yugoslavia, Romania, Poland, Czechoslovakia and others which certainly involve the international sphere but which, since none of these countries are in any position to declare war, do not actually, at the moment, involve peace.

But others say Russia does desire peace sincerely. They will merely put this new contention down as another inexplicable move on Moscow's part, to which they expect to find the answer later.

This also applies to the latest moves regarding Poland, where Russia chooses the very time of consultations regarding the Polish government to bring about a breakdown in negotiations only a few weeks ago.

SALEM SUGAR QUOTA WILL BE SET SOON

Revised quotas for the issuance of canning sugar should be in the hands of the Salem Station board early this week, officials said today, and then the processing of applications in accordance with the new allotment will begin.

Regional OPA officials sent out word today that a district man with Salem's new quota and allotment will arrive here either Tuesday or Wednesday to begin the local issuance.

Extra precautions will be taken by the Salem board to make sure that housewives who really need sugar for canning will be able to obtain it and that home canning is not used as an excuse to secure sugar for other purposes.

The second reduction in canning sugar allotments results from the acute shortage of sugar, coupled with the great increase in applications over last year, officials point out. Neither the OPA nor the local board is responsible for either of these factors, but it is regrettable that it will now be necessary to issue less sugar to new applicants than the amount already granted to others. A. P. Morris, head of the Salem program, said.

Dies Suddenly

rites on Tuesday FOR VAN BLARICOM

Salem Farmer Was Prominent In Grange, Farm Bureau Activities

Stephen Norton Van Blaricom, 76, prominent Salem farmer, was found dead of a heart attack at his home on the Franklin road about noon Saturday.

Members of the family found him in a tool shed where he had walked after getting the morning mail.

A native of Waterville, Minn., where he was born April 4, 1869, he was the son of Levi and Sarah Van Blaricom.

He had resided here for 45 years, having moved to Salem from Victor, Mont., where he was a locomotive engineer for the Northern Pacific railroad. In his early boyhood he was a cowboy in the west.

Following his marriage here April 5, 1900, to Maude Grielle, he took employment as a master mechanic at the McKee-Reynolds shops at Leetonia. Afterwards, he turned to farming.

Active In Grange Work
Mr. Van Blaricom was first president of the Columbiana County Farm bureau, was a past master of the Columbiana County Pomona grange, was a charter member and past master of Perry grange and was on the county visiting board.

He also had been active for 26 years in Perry township election affairs and served as presiding judge in the township precinct for a number of years.

He also was a member of the Sons of Veterans and the Odd Fellows lodge and attended the Presbyterian church.

Besides these activities he was recognized as one of the best amateur astronomers in the district.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Falor of Salem and Mrs. A. G. Harrison of Columbus; two sons, John of Salem and Robert of Huntington, W. Va.; six grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Effie Wylett of Hamilton, Mont., Mrs. Mary Eddy of Iowa, Alberta, Canada, and Mrs. Alice Hyatt of Yakima, Wash.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Dr. R. D. Walter. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery.

Friends may call this evening at the funeral home.

BOOST POINTS ON SHORTENING, OILS

WASHINGTON, June 18—OPA upset housewives' red point budgets today by posting another two-point ration hike for lard, shortening and salad and cooking oils.

The boost places a 12-point-a-pound value on those products. The agency said its action was necessary because of reduced supplies and uneven distribution.

Smaller third-quarter allotments of fats and oils to all commercial users except pharmaceutical manufacturers also were announced.

37TH DIVISION MAKES BIGGEST PRISONER HAUL

Japs Surrender In Drove In Luzon Campaign Which Nears Close

By SPENCER DAVIS
MANILA, June 18—Japanese soldiers are surrendering in the Cagayan valley of northern Luzon in "the greatest haul" of the Southwest Pacific, Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, commander of the 37th Infantry division, said today as his men drove rapidly northward on the valley floor.

Beightler made his statement to Hamilton W. Faxon, Associated Press war correspondent with the 37th, after state officers completed counting 447 prisoners taken in one 24-hour period.

The following day an incomplete count added 162 more prisoners, bringing the total for 36 hours to 609.

402,363 Enemy Casualties
Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced in his Monday communique that the Philippine campaign had cost the enemy 402,363 casualties in eight months.

Breakdown of the Japanese transport system under the pounding of U. S. Fifth air force planes was given much of the credit for the fast advance of the ground forces down the Cagayan valley, where the last major concentration of Nipponese is holding out.

Hundreds of burned out trucks and tanks, victims of air attack, were found along roadsides as the 37th division gained 13 and 14 miles in one day in parallel drives through the broad valley, reaching Cauayan and Cabatuan.

The Buckeye division had advanced 40 miles in three days since fighting out onto the valley floor after a long slugging match up a mountainous gorge.

Once out in the open, the Americans have not been hampered seriously.

By RICHARD O'MALLEY
GUAM, June 18—A Japanese field officer who held remnants of his command together for 10 months until he had become a symbol of resistance to them has surrendered with 33 of his men.

The officer made a formal surrender here as elements of a Marine battalion watched, slack-jawed.

Parleys between the officer and Marine Col. Howard N. Stout, Warner Springs, Calif., preceded the surrender, which was reported today as a fine example of American psychological warfare.

Date of the surrender was presumably some time this month. Guam was "secured" Aug. 9, 1944.

The Japanese officer attended the Parleys in an open area surrounded by a Marine guard but he brought down his own well-fed appearing troops with him. As he talked, a subaltern wiped perspiration from his face and another fanned off flies.

Clad In U. S. Uniforms
The Japanese said they had plenty of food and water. The first concern of the surrendering officer was his query: "What is the future of Japan after victory?"

"That will depend a whole lot on the type of leadership men of your intelligence give it," replied Stout.

Clad in American service uniforms, including dungarees and jackets on which were stenciled the names of Marines from whom they had been stolen, the surrendering troops counted off briskly. Then

Buy Bond At Show If Want to Shoot Gun

If you want to fire a bazooka or a machine gun at the "Here's Your Infantry" show at Reilly stadium next Thursday night, you'll have to buy that extra bond at the field that night.

This change in plans was announced today at headquarters of the Seventh War Loan drive.

Purchase of a $100 War bond that night will give you a chance to fire the bazooka; to fire a machine gun you must buy a $50 bond.

ARNOLD SEES END OF JAPAN

Nothing Left To Bomb By End of '46, Says Air Forces General

(By Associated Press)
MANILA, June 18—Gen. H. H. Arnold, head of the U. S. Army Air Forces, said today "by the end of 1946, we figure, there will be nothing left of Japan to bomb."

Arnold, conferring with Gen. George C. Kenney, chief of the Far East Air Forces at the latter's Philippines headquarters, expressed his views at a press conference.

Amplifying his program to drop three times as many bombs on Japan in the next 18 months as were dropped on Germany, Arnold asserted that by this fall there would be twice as many B-29s in operation against Japan as were used in May, when the heavy fire raids on Japanese cities were started by fleets of 400 and 500 of the big bombers.

Twelve thousand pound factory buster bombs, now in production, will be used.

Arnold remarked that the distance involved in bombing Manchuria, where many Japanese war plants are located, "doesn't worry us—from Okinawa we can cover half of China and all of Manchuria."

He predicted that "lack of fuel will drive Japan's air force from the skies just as it did the Luftwaffe."

Targets reached only by Superforts now within a short time will be within reach of medium, light and fighter bombers as well. When that time arrives, there must be complete reorganization of commands to assure maximum effectiveness of bombings.

GUAM, June 18—The thinning garrison on southern Okinawa was cut into two segments today, most of the enemy forces were retreating from the Yajui plateau and those in the rear were hammered by 200 massed American guns.

Adm. Minoru Ota, enemy naval base force commander, killed himself. His body, with throat slit, was found in an underground command post.

The Japanese were dying at the rate of 1,600 a day, said Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, announcing 12,756 had been slain in eight days, swelling to 80,459 the number killed since the invasion began April 1.

The estimated 8,000 to 12,000 Japanese still fighting were falling back behind "last-stand" ridge at the southern edge of the plateau.

COUNTY LEVY VOTE IN NOVEMBER SEEN

LISBON, June 18—Columbiana county's commissioners are expected to submit a one-mill tax levy for the Nov. 6 election, for the care and treatment of tuberculosis sufferers, county officials said today.

The Columbiana County Public Health league has urged a vote on a revenue plan because of lack of funds to provide hospitalization for scores of patients ill.

Only $30,000 diverted from operating expenses has been appropriated this year for the treatment of tubercular patients, who are admitted to the Rocky Glen Sanatorium at McConellsville and the Tuscarawas county hospital at New Philadelphia. Health officials estimated $100,000 a year will be necessary to hospitalize all patients.

OPA Action Aids Farmers Needing Passenger Tires

WASHINGTON, June 18—OPA today authorized the release of new passenger tires for vehicles converted to farm use that cannot be operated with farm-impement tires, or where suitable used passenger tires are not available.

OPA said that since the War Food administration is discontinuing 30 to 35 per cent of the tires which heretofore acted on applications for permission to convert farm vehicles from steel to rubber-tired wheels, farmers thereafter will submit such applications direct to local ration boards.

Supreme Court Votes 5 To 3 Against Bridges' Deportation

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Supreme court today ruled invalid a deportation order against Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader.

Justice Douglas delivered the court's 5-3 opinion. Justice Jackson took no part in the case. Chief Justice Stone wrote a dissent in which Justices Frankfurter and Roberts concurred.

The court's decision climaxed a seven-year fight over government efforts to send the alien Bridges back to Australia—which he came a quarter-century ago.

Attorney General Biddle ordered Bridges deported on the ground that the longshoremen's union extortive had been a member of the Communist party. Biddle at that time said the party advocated violent overthrow of the United States government.

Bridges contended Biddle's order violated rights guaranteed an alien by the Constitution. He denied he ever had been affiliated with the Communist party.

The first attempt to oust Bridges in 1938 failed when the Supreme court ruled past membership in the Communist party was not a ground for deporting an alien.

Then Congress amended the law to make past membership in organizations advocating violent overthrow of the government a cause for deportation.

Biddle began the present proceedings in May, 1942. Bridges attacked the deportation order in habeas corpus proceedings, but Biddle was upheld by the lower federal courts.

Clarify Decision
Justice Douglas said for the majority that Bridges had been ordered deported "on a misinterpretation of the term 'affiliation' as used in the statute and by reason of an unfair hearing on the question of his membership in the Communist party, his detention under the warrant is unlawful."

"Accordingly," Douglas said, "it is unnecessary for us to consider the larger constitutional questions which have been advanced in the challenge to the legality of petitioners (Bridges) detention under the deportation order."

"It (affiliation) imports less than membership but more than sympathy," Douglas said. "By the terms of the statute it includes

TELLS CONGRESS SOLDIERS' MINDS ARE OPTIMISTIC

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 18.—General Dwight D. Eisenhower told the nation's lawmakers and jurists today that the soldier "passionately believes . . . the problems of peace can and must be met."

To the soldier's mind, the general declared in an address prepared for his appearance before a joint session of Congress and the Supreme court, "the problems of peace can be no more difficult than the one you had to solve more than three years ago, and which, in one battle area, has now been brought to a successful conclusion."

"He passionately believes that with the same determination, the same optimistic resolution and the same mutual consideration, among Allies that marshalled in Europe forces capable of crushing what had been the greatest war machine of history, the problems of peace can and must be met."

Cites Task In Pacific
Referring to the Pacific war, General Eisenhower said:

"Speaking for the American men and women I have been so honored to command . . . in our minds and hearts there is no slightest doubt that our people's spirit of determination, which has buoyed us up and driven us forward in Europe, will continue to fire this nation through the ordeals of battle yet to come. Though we dream of return to our loved ones, we are ready, as we have always been, to do our duty to our country, no matter what it may be."

General Eisenhower made these points in his address to Congress and the Supreme court. The late President and Prime Minister Churchill were "two God-given men" to whom the world owes lasting obligations. In Churchill, Roosevelt "had a worthy partner, who had led his country through its blackest hour in 1940."

Places Hope In Future
British and Americans forgot differences in customs and methods—even national prejudice—in their devotion to a common cause.

The campaigns of the Red army, crushing all resistance in the east, played a decisive part in the defeat of Germany.

The banners of victory cannot hide from sight these sacrifices in which victory has been bought.

"The hard task of a commander is to send men into battle knowing some of them—often many—must be killed or wounded in order that necessary missions may be achieved. It is soul killing!"

"My sorrow is not only for the fine young lives lost or broken, but it is equally for the parents, the wives and the friends who have been bereaved. The price they pay is possibly the greatest for the victory won. The blackest of their grief can be relieved only by the faith that all this shall not happen again!"

Soviet Commander In Berlin Is Killed

LONDON, June 18.—The Soviet-controlled Berlin radio announced today that Col. Gen. Mikolai Bezarin, Russian commander in the German capital, had been killed in an accident. The broadcast, recorded by B. B. C., did not give any details.

It was Bezarin who conducted foreign correspondents through the German capital on an inspection tour a little more than a week ago.

Sergt. Plegge, who arrived home over the weekend, was a member of the 15th division of the Third army. He fought in Italy where he was wounded twice, later in France where he was again wounded twice.

He arrived in Boston Saturday after being liberated from a camp in Germany late last month.

AIR SPECIAL BRINGS 'IKE' BACK TO U. S.

Crowds Cheer Supreme Commander On Arrival In Washington

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 18.—General Dwight D. (Ike) Eisenhower returned triumphantly today to a grateful America to receive from his countrymen a conquering hero's tumultuous acclaim.

President Truman's own sleek C-54, one of four big transports, bringing the general and his party home from the wars, landed on Washington's National airport at 11:11 a. m. Eastern War time. Thousands of necks craned in a jammed Washington as the planes, escorted by fighters, roared over the capital at 11:08 a. m. enroute to the airport.

Cries of "Ike Ike Ike"—A word now known in all languages, meaning a fighting general—rang from hundreds of thousands of the modest, 54-year-old son of a Kansas farm family stepped from the huge flying ship. He flashed his famous grin in response.

Embraces Wife
General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, and Eisenhower's petite and vivacious wife rushed to meet him as the door of his plane opened. A flight of more than 30 bombers and fighters—symbolic of the might that vanquished German and Italian arms—escorted the Allied supreme commander's plane from the Atlantic coast to the airfield in Virginia just across the Potomac from Washington.

Mrs. Eisenhower ran to the general as he came down the steps from the plane and embraced and kissed him.

Scores of photographers, who missed the first shot as the general ran down the steps, yelled "How about another kiss, general?"

"No posing, boys," the general said.

Eisenhower snapped to a salute as an 80-piece army band struck up with martial music.

Parades To Capitol Hill
Eisenhower wore a light summer uniform. On his breast were numerous ribbons telling the graphic story of the campaigns he led through North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany to the very gates of Berlin.

After the greetings for Eisenhower and his men, the general began an eight mile "Victory" drive over Memorial bridge along hunting and city streets lined with hundreds of thousands of parents, wives, brothers, sisters and friends of the men he led in battle.

With the general were 53 fellow soldiers—from a private first class to generals—who fought with him. The parade destination was Capitol Hill where Congress in joint session waited to honor him.

BOY, 5, GETS MEDAL FOR DEAD FATHER

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, June 18.—Five-year-old Herbert Christian, who lives near Steubenville (Route 4), will receive the Congressional Medal of Honor late today in behalf of his father, Pvt. Herbert F. Christian, who was killed in Italy on June 3, 1944.

The child's mother will be with him as Maj. Gen. James L. Collins, commanding officer of the Fifth Service command, presents the medal in the first ceremony of its kind ever held at Fort Hayes here.

Pvt. Christian, an insurance salesman in Canton before he entered the army in November, 1942, lost his life as he set out voluntarily to draw enemy fire from a trapped patrol. His right leg was severed by cannon fire, but he dragged himself on his left knee, firing his sub-machine gun and killing four Germans, before he fell.

Harry Truman: Phase II

This week Harry Truman, in his third busy month as chief executive of the United States, begins a new phase of his presidential career.

He will leave the White House for a turn around the country. At the close of the week he will address the closing session of the United Nations meeting in San Francisco. Within a matter of days at the most, Mr. Truman will attend a parley with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin. In the meantime, he will have assumed personal responsibility for Senate approval of the world security charter being prepared at San Francisco.

This is the beginning of Mr. Truman's full-dress participation in international affairs. If it seems strange to realize that he is about to take direct responsibility for the function performed by Franklin D. Roosevelt for so many years, it must seem even stranger to Mr. Truman. Fate has forced the role of world statesmen upon him; certainly he did not seek it.

Yet, due to the favorable impression made by his handling of the presidential function in the momentous weeks since Mr. Roosevelt's death, there are few misgivings about Mr. Truman's ability to represent the American people properly—to be a dignified symbol of the aims and practices of America.

Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill, being shrewd men, will not be likely to miscalculate Mr. Truman's position in the United States. He holds a stronger position on the eve of his first meeting with them than his predecessor held at the end of his second meeting.

Mr. Truman has the confidence of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives to an unusual degree—more so than Mr. Roosevelt had it, even in the days when both houses of Congress were accused of being his "rubber stamps". Mr. Roosevelt sometimes had the power to order congressional confidence. There always was a lively suspicion that he resented legislative "interference," and on numerous occasions he seemed to go out of his way to encourage the suspicion.

Mr. Truman has the considerable advantage of being identified politically with a section of the United States which properly holds the balance of power in foreign policy—the Middle West. All things being equal, it is going to be easier for him to allay the misgivings of the section of the country he represents than it would have been for Mr. Roosevelt or than it proved to be for Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Roosevelt, strongly identified with New York, was handicapped when he tried to pick his way through the maze of the Middle West's uneasy doubts and fears about sweeping foreign policy commitments.

Mr. Truman has the further and paradoxical advantage of gaining strength as a negotiator of international relations from his plainly evident weakness—his lack of experience. He knows what has gone before, but is singularly free of personal commitments. Because he is inexperienced and because he is a man of cautious nature, he undoubtedly will recognize his personal as well as his official limitations. He knows where his predecessor was weak. He can profit from Mr. Roosevelt's mistakes.

He will have another important advantage: Mr. Roosevelt, as a negotiator, had to rest his case on the apparent probability he could command overwhelming popular support and continue to command it. The probability is even more probable with Mr. Truman speaking for the United States. Mr. Roosevelt's health and the circumstances of his re-election last November must have convinced the foreign delegations at Teheran and Yalta that the foreign policy of the United States had come to rest in hands destined to fall long before the problems of the war had been solved.

Foreign governments make it their business to know as much about the political realities of the United States as our own politicians. There is not the slightest doubt that all of them have made careful evaluations of Mr. Truman. If they have made the evaluations correctly, the American people may be pleasantly surprised in the near future to find something of the same sure, firm touch in diplomacy that Mr. Truman has given to domestic affairs.

He claims no peculiar genius. Unless he is the beneficiary of a miracle, the job he is called on to perform to the best of his ability will get harder, not easier, as he delves deeper into its complications. But at the beginning of the second phase of his responsibility as chief executive—his role as principal negotiator for the American people—his position is strong.

The Weather Is Always Unusual

Among the attitudes of humility which wartime experiences are forcing many of us to wear is a more realistic attitude about the weather.

Experience at home and abroad has made it plain to more Americans than ever thought about it honestly before that the weather is always unusual. Storms at sea, winters in Europe, summers in the tropics, low temperatures in the Far North, rainfall and lack of rainfall—all the assorted phenomena of weather that Americans have encountered—are no part of their pattern of normal weather.

At home, coming to a climax in last winter's unusual conditions and staying at a climax in this spring and summer's abnormal circumstances, the weather is so unusual it defies comparison.

There is abundant evidence for the theory that war and weather somehow go together; that when peace, commonly supposed to be the usual condition, is interrupted unusual weather must be expected, either as cause or effect.

But there also is another theory—that war is not unusual, but usual, which would seem to make the unusual weather that goes with war not unusual but usual, too. To dwell on this is to realize that there really is more of the unknown left about weather than it is reassuring to think about. Thus there comes into existence an attitude of humility—and under the circumstances of this unusual June, lately turned humid, an attitude of humility as well. This attitude of humility, of course, is one of the utmost simplicity. One merely sighs, "Ho, hum," and concludes that since there is nothing to do about it, why worry?

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, June 19.

A SURPRISING development in the affairs may fall for quick decisions and well thought out procedures if the indicated benefits are to be turned to good account and long range happiness. A radical move is probable, with upsets, commotion and excitement of thrilling and dramatic nature. None-the-less hasty action is hazardous, and the best results come from careful, sensible and sane judgment, in which the advice of an elderly relative or a responsible and loving friends may be calmly considered. Unusual factors call for prudent evaluation.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of sudden and exciting events, which should culminate in surprising benefits and pleasure if sensibly and prudently managed. Rash, erratic or emotional decisions are likely to mislead and turn the situation into hazardous channels. Under such impulsive drive it would be well to confer with an elderly relative or some influential but understanding friend, for happiest and far-reaching results. New ideas, plans and ventures are worth careful consideration.

Treatment For Scabies or Itch

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

THE war has brought out new treatments for many disorders, some serious and some just troublesome. In the latter group is a disease called scabies or the itch. This is a condition caused by a tiny parasite which burrows under the skin and causes a great deal of itching. As a result of scratching a rash develops made up of pimples and scabs.

Many different forms of treatment for scabies have been employed. Doctors Simon S. Rubin and Harvey Blank of the Medical Corps of the United States Army have suggested a treatment which they find not only effective but quick. The treatment requires only a three-hour period. It is carried out as follows:

Thorough Scrubbing

The patient thoroughly scrubs his body for fifteen minutes with soap and water, using a hand brush, paying special attention to the hands, wrists, elbows, armpits, buttocks, abdomen and thighs. The face and scalp are not treated. The patient then takes a warm bath and scrubs his body again with soap and water for a half hour. The skin is then carefully dried and an ointment applied. This ointment is made up of sulphur, potassium carbonate, lanolin and petrolatum. The ointment is spread over the affected skin.

The patient is then wrapped in a sheet and two wool blankets, and following this, remains in bed in a warm room. After two hours another bath is taken and all of the ointment removed by again scrubbing with soap and water. It is important to get all of the ointment off in order to keep inflammation of the skin from resulting from the use of the sulphur.

Zinc Oxide Ointment

After drying, the skin is covered with a thin layer of a zinc oxide ointment. Meanwhile all of the patient's clothing, including the blankets, should be sterilized. This is important in order to prevent reinfection.

Of 266 patients treated in this way, 217 were completely cured and only five of the patients developed any skin inflammation from the treatment.

Perhaps the greatest value of this form of treatment is that it is carried out so quickly. Of course you have allergic rhinitis, a condition which is related to hay fever. It is due to sensitivity to some protein, pollen, dust or other material with which you come in contact. An allergist should be consulted about this matter. The use of epinephrine or adrenalin may be helpful in relieving the symptoms.

SO THEY SAY

As he stood pitching grenades like they were baseballs, I could think of only one thing—that damn fool is determined to get out of the Army either via the Medal of Honor or death.

World food production has declined, and demands have risen... meanwhile, 100,000,000 people in liberated Europe are looking for food. It will not be a good foundation for peace if they have to go hungry.

—British Food Minister Col. John J. Llewellyn.

We missed rocket bombing of the U. S. by six months. On the basis of theoretical work, the Germans figured that in two years they could produce a rocket bomb that would go from the British Isles to Japan—15,000 miles.

—Maj. William Bromley.

It is vital above all that we establish policies which the American people understand and believe in, because without this condition, public opinion before long will simply demand that we come home and leave Europe stew in its own juice.

A SONG to REMEMBER

by Willard Wiener

XXXIV

"Sh—Chopin is playing."

Outside the Paris home of the Duchess of Orleans, coachmen, passers-by, others paused to listen to the music that carried into the night air.

Jozef Elsner produced his ivory-milled Gluckowska had entrusted him, and was admitted. He left his greatcoat, his hat and his white gloves with a lackey at the door, then went up the wide stairs.

"Sh—Chopin is playing."

Jozef Elsner clutched the packed to his chest. Frederic, who had passed into the music room. There were chairs for 40 or 50 persons. He brushed alongside the critic Kalkreuth, who looked at him stiffly. Jozef Elsner bowed. He passed. He took a chair on one side of the room where it was possible, if Frederic raised his head, to catch Frederic's eye.

Madame Sand was several chairs away. Her eyes were fixed on Frederic. Jozef Elsner saw her. But his eyes were not for her, they were for Frederic—the friend and pupil he had not seen for so long. Frederic was very pale. His eyes seemed to have large hollows in his face, or so it seemed to Jozef Elsner. He was dressed, too, in the most fashionable manner, or so it seemed to Jozef Elsner; even a boutonniere in the lapel of his coat. He was playing now the Waltz in C-Sharp Minor.

Frederic raised his head, a smile on his lips. He looked toward Madame Sand, then as his eyes wandered beyond, the smile suddenly froze, then disappeared entirely.

The piece was finished and was met with vigorous applause. Frederic acknowledged the hand-clapping. Then he hunted nervously in his pockets for his kerchief to dry his head. His eyes again met those of Jozef Elsner.

Elsner stared without applauding.

Frederic was about to resume at the piano. He had a sudden change of heart. He looked at the Duchess. His voice faltered.

"Your Grace will pardon me! I shall continue in a moment."

He walked from the room which was instantly a-buzz with conversation and started looks.

Correspondents Tell of Interesting Island War Happenings

By ROBBIN COONS

B-29 BASE, Tinian—The crew of the B-29 "T-N-Ten" laugh about their long, terrifying journey home from a strike at Nagoya but it was no laughing matter at the time.

Over the target this plane commanded by Capt. Frederick B. Shaffer of New Cumberland, Pa., took a direct flak hit in its No. 4 engine, and smoke streamed from the dead nacelle.

"We couldn't feather," says Scheaffer, "and there was danger the prop might fly off."

And I figured where there was smoke there had to be fire—and I knew we'd have to ditch."

A plane commanded by Capt. William Weinert of Toledo, Ore., played "Buddy" to the crippled ship. Shaffer's crew began dumping equipment, losing altitude, preparing for the perilous water crash.

Then Weinert informed them by radio that the engine had stopped smoking. That gave them hope—they would try to make it in!

All the way they flew that giant, heavy ship, at an altitude of five to ten feet off the water, to make a landing at two jims!

Lt. Varge L. Frick of San Antonio, Tex., the bombardier, recited his Rosary all the way in. "And my beads got so hot," he said later "I had to drop them in my canteen to cool them off!"

"Think of all that equipment we dumped! Thousands of dollars of War Bonds went to but it. Taxpayers' money—gone like that!" another said.

"That $7,000 bombsight—" "And that $12,000 camera!" "Well," said Lt. William G. Hawes of Dallas, Tex., "I was trying to save Uncle Sam that $10,000 life insurance policy he carries on me!"

Dies Hero's Death

Sometimes there is no laughter—Only grief and admiration. That, and a posthumous Silver Star, was the lot of Maj. John C. Conly, Laredo, Tex., whose heroism as commander of a Tokyo-striking B-29 is a legend. Conly took charge of the precision-instrument bombing after one run over the target.

he repaired the navigational equipment, located an island, and directed the "ditching" near it—only a quarter-mile away so the nine survivors easily reached safety.

But Conly was not among them. The plane broke in two on the crash and Conly was not seen again.

Miss Daugherty, Miss Field Brides In Weekend Weddings

Marked by simplicity, yet beautiful, was the wedding of Miss Norma Dene Daugherty, daughter of Mrs. Cora Daugherty of N. Lincoln ave. and Staff Sgt. Robert O. Lora, son of Mrs. Myrtle Lora of Franklin st., at 3:30 p. m. Saturday at the First Presbyterian church. Dr. R. D. Walter, officiated, using the double ring service.

The altar was artistically decorated with ferns, palms and large bouquets of orange blossoms. At either side was a tall seven branch candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Anna Cooke played "Because," "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly." As the strains of the Bridal chorus from Lohengrin were heard the bride came down the aisle with her uncle, Gale Daugherty, who gave her in marriage. They were preceded by Mrs. Benson Miller, sister of the groom, matron of honor, and were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Sgt. Frederick Daugherty, brother of the bride. The ushers were Benson Miller and Glenn Swaney.

Mrs. Miller was dressed in a cinnamon brown and white dress with matching accessories. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and baby breath, and also a hand-made chiffon handkerchief carried by her mother and a great aunt on their wedding days. She wore a jeweled bracelet, a gift of the bride.

The groom and best man were in military uniform. Mrs. Daugherty, the bride's mother, was dressed in a blue dress with navy accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Lora, wore a tan dress with brown accessories and both women wore corsages of yellow roses.

Afterwards a wedding dinner for the bridal party and immediate families was served in the dining room at the church. The bride's table was beautiful in appointment. It was centered with a tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. There were bowls of pansies and white tapers on either side. The same decorations were used on the other two tables.

AMERICANS!

STAND SHOULDER TO SHOULDER IN THE MIGHTY SEVENTH

... After the bloody battle for Iwo no American can doubt that victory comes high—in lives and dollars!

... But every American is determined to win the final victory, no matter what the cost!

... Here at home we're engaged in the greatest, the most urgent War Bond drive of the war. It will take more bond purchases than ever before to put it over the top. Find your quota in the box at the right—and buy your share of Bonds—more if you possibly can!

WHY MORE BONDS ARE NEEDED IN THE SEVENTH

... As the fury of the fight for victory mounts, the cost of war becomes higher. The nearer we get to the heart of the enemy, the longer our communication lines become. That means more trucks, more transport planes, thousands of more troop and supply vessels. We need more special equipment, more B-29's and planes of all types, more tanks, more guns—more of every weapon of war. There are thousands of ways in which your money is needed to supply our fighters with the best.

... And don't forget—War Bonds are still the world's best investment. You get $4.00 for every $3.00 you invest, at maturity ... and if, 60 days after issue date, you must have your money back in an emergency, you can get it at a moment's notice.

Insulate Your Home and Forget Your Coal Worries

There are a number of reasons why home owners should be giving serious consideration to their coal or other fuel problems for home heating next winter.

Coal production is 8.2 per cent below the figures of last year, when coal was none too plentiful.

Government rationing limits each customer to 80 per cent of the tonnage he used last year.

The extra strain placed on the railroads because of the shift to the west for most war materials is having a marked effect on deliveries from the mines.

There are other reasons should make any home owner do what he can to make less tons of fuel do the heating at his home and there isn't much that can be done except to keep the heat from leaking out of his home. This can be accomplished up to 50 per cent in many instances by installing Johns-Manville "Blown" Rock Wool insulation.

R. B. Finley, Columbiana county representative for Johns-Manville, is located at the Finley Music Co.,

132 S. Broadway. He will be pleased to inform you of the cost, which will be paid back in a very short time in coal savings.

Keep Autos In Repair. Is Hine Garage Advice

Your car is older than you realize! Right now, eight out of ten cars are more than four years old. More than half of the cars on the road are at least seven years old.

As your car grows older it naturally needs more service and replacement parts. Increased demand for service with the shortage of manpower has forced much overtime work yet with all these conditions, dealers such as the H. I. Hine Motor Co., local Ford dealers, have been able to give satisfactory service.

"Every motorist should realize it will be a long time before all who want new cars or new trucks can have them," Hine says. "The chances are that your car will have to last longer than you think, so don't neglect it. Just keep bringing it to us for every little trouble that develops so we can keep you from having a big repair bill a little later."

Endres-Gross Have A-1 Seeds, Plants For Gardens

It does not take much space nor work to grow a small garden that, when taken care of, will supply fresh vegetables for home use with enough for canning purposes.

Perhaps of greatest importance is to have good seed that is adapted to the climate and soil conditions of this vicinity. Alcen Gross of Endres and Gross, florists, is trained to give correct advice regarding the proper varieties to grow and sell seeds and plants for transplanting that will give results if care is given to the young growing plants.

Right now is the ideal time to plant most of the vegetable main crop, and to prolong the harvest time plantings can be made for another few weeks of several varieties that will mature before killing frosts in the fall.

If you are a novice at gardening be frank with Mr. Gross and he will give you much advice that will help you grow a garden that your neighbors will envy.

Athletics Walk Away With Sixth Win In First Home Game

Win From Massillon Team 5-1 In First 1945 Game At Improved Centennial Field

Displaying their baseball wares at Centennial park for the first time this season, the Salem Athletics chalked up their sixth win in eight games, 5-1, over a young but aggressive Massillon Hardware club before a sizable crowd Sunday afternoon.

Al Carlos, veteran all-around man, did the mound work for Salem and turned in a good job. Carlos allowed Massillon nine hits but kept them well enough spaced to avoid any heavy scoring.

Massillon started the fireworks yesterday with a single run in the first inning. Salem stepped into the lead with two runs in the first of the second and then added a pair more in the third.

That's the way the score ran until the seventh when another local tally was marked up, making it 5-1. Massillon rallied momentarily in the eighth and made it look like a good ball game, but they were cut short with two runs.

Massillon's first inning score came after Bob Weisgarber led off and was safe on Gordy Scullion's error. Watson sacrificed him to second and George Weisgarber lined out to Batty Morrison. Herman then banged away at a short single and Bob Weisgarber pulled up at third.

Pete Weiner, third sacker, laid out a double, scoring the run and putting Weiner on third. Carlos struck out Ketter to close the inning.

Salem's initial two were scored immediately. Nevin Halverstadt and Danny Kenst led off with singles. Al Carlos sacrificed them one base farther and Batty Morrison's single drove them across to put Salem in front.

In the third Joe Hrovatic was safe on an error at first and third sacker Standley singled him on around. Halverstadt walked, filling the sacks, and Dan Kenst got a one-bagger to score the pair of runs.

In the seventh Salem scored when Hrovatic singled to begin the frame and Halverstadt walked. Dan Kenst drove one down third and a fumble gave him the first base and allowed a run to score.

Massillon scored two in the eighth and it looked for a while like they might tie up the game. George Weisgarber singled to lead off. Herman went out to first and Weiner followed with another single and Weisgarber crossed the plate on Al Carlos' error. Ketter batted out another hit and after Weiner scored Ketter was trapped between third and home and made the second out. Zorger, who replaced Dimitroff in right, then struck out, ending the threat.

Carlos hurled the nine-inning stretch, walking one and fanning three. Massillon's Gleason turned in a nice game, being tagged 11 times, walking three and striking out four.

The Athletics are idle until Wednesday when the Warren A. C. a Negro outfit, will play at Centennial park at 6 p. m.

OHIO STATE VETS AMONG 80 PLAYERS NOW WORKING OUT

Widdoes Begins Tiling for His Second Buckeye Grid Machine

COLUMBUS, June 18. — Ohio State university's football hopes for the coming season ride on the broad shoulders of some 80 candidates reporting to Coach Carroll Widdoes today for summer drills.

The six weeks of practice will conclude with the annual intrasquad game July 28. Then the fans will have some idea of the Bucks' chances of successfully defending the Western Conference championship won by last year's unbeaten unit eleven.

Regulars from the 1944 team back for duty are All-America Bill Hackett of London, O., guard and captain-elect; Warren Amling of Pana, Ill., and Russ Thomas of Huntington, W. Va., tackles, and Ollie Cline of Fredericktown, full-back.

Other veterans include Bob Dove of Ashland, Johnny Ehrsam of Toledo and Joe Mascio of Ravenna, backs. Quarterback Matt Brown of Massillon; Guards Jack Redd of Columbus and Paul Maltinsky of Wheeling, W. Va.; Tackle Bob McGinnis of Wyoming, O., and End Dick Jackson of Wellsville.

Back on the squad after an absence of two years is Ex-serviceman Paul Sarringhaus, star back on the Bucks' 1942 National championship team.
One of the many newcomers was Ward Wright, brother of State's hurdle champion, Bob. He is reportedly remarkably fast for his 200 pounds. The Wright brothers are from Huntington, W. Va.

Sport Chatter

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, June 18. — Gordon Kirkland, Catawba college baseball coach, who made one appeal to Commissioner Happy Chandler to stop the "kidnaping" of young players by major league scouts, now is urging every high school and college coach to write the commissioner. . . . That would show unanimity, but it is doubtful whether it would do much good otherwise. . . . The high school boys probably will be safe once the older players come back from the war and it's up to the college coaches to show that they can give the boy a real baseball education while he's getting some book-learning, too. . . . Kirkland points out that pro football has "co-opted" with the colleges, but the footballers have their draft system to prevent competition in signing players and they don't want to establish an expensive minor league system of developing material when the colleges can do it for them.

HOT SMOKES
Home runs really are worthwhile at Ebbets field these days. . . . Every time Sportscaster Red Barber sees the ball dropping over the fence, he tosses a carton of these cigarettes he advertises down the grandstand wire and when the batter crosses the plate, the mascot miffs him with the carton. . . . That's one way to get cigarettes—and also one way to get away with throwing things at those "ferocious gentlemen".

MONDAY MATINEE
Bill Cane, who staged the Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y., reports that ticket orders already have been received from every state and from Canada and that all attendance records are sure to fall. . . . Well, there aren't any trolley cars in Goshen. When the Cubs only asked Bill Voiselle for Bench Warner Heinz Becker and turned down two outfielders, a pitcher and some dough for Lou Novikoff.

BROOKLYN PULLS SURPRISE AGAIN; DETROIT ON TOP

Bums Upsetting All Dope By Remaining Near And On Top

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those "ferocious gentlemen" from Brooklyn are in undisputed possession of first place in the National league today for the first time this season.

Chosen by baseball writers to finish near the bottom, the surprising Dodgers climaxed a great early June drive by humbling Mort Cooper and the Boston Braves 9-6 in the opener of yesterday's scheduled double header to sweep past both Pittsburgh and New York. The Bucs and Giants are now tied for second place, one game behind.

In pitching the Dodgers to their ninth victory in the last 11 games, Hal Gregg gained the distinction of becoming the first hurler to take a decision from Cooper, who had won six straight. The victory was the ninth for Gregg, although he had to have help when the Braves rallied for three runs in the eighth. The second game was halted by the Massachusetts 6:30 p. m. curfew law with the Braves ahead 4-1 after seven innings. The game will be completed in August.

The lowly Phils surprised the Ottomans with a 16-hit outburst in the opener and continued their winning ways in the nightcap with the aid of a brilliant scoreless five-inning relief by Anton Karl. Giant Ace Bill Voiselle suffered his sixth straight setback in the afterpiece, following a string of eight triumphs.

Tigers Lead

The league leading Detroit Tigers took it on the chin twice from the Chicago White Sox 6-1 and 7-5, but retained first place in the American league, although their lead was cut to one and one-half games.

Veteran Thornton Lee won his eighth in the opener with a neat six-hitter, while Joe Haynes gained credit for his fifth in the nightcap, although he suffered a fractured leg sliding into third in the fifth frame.

The New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics split. After Floyd Ream won the opener for the Yankees 7-1 from Buck Newsom, the Mackmen's Russ Christopher notched his 11th triumph 4-2.

Boston's rampaging Red Sox took two from Washington 2-1 and 7-1 to pull up within a game and a half of the second place Yankees.

A three-run rally in the ninth gave the Chicago Cubs their eighth victory over Cincinnati 3-1 in the opener of what was supposed to be a double header. The second game was postponed by rain as was the Cleveland-St. Louis single scored bill. Harry Lowrey, single scored, the tying and winning runs for the Cubs to give Paul Derringer, who had relieved Starter Hank Wyse, his eighth triumph.

The Army Was Never Like This

LOSING THAT FIRST GAME AND END OF STREAK A RELIEF TO FERRISS

BY AL VERMEER
NEW YORK — It would have surprised you to walk into the Red Sox dressing room after rookie Dave Ferriss' winning streak had been snapped at eight by the Yankees. No one seemed particularly sorrowed — not even Ferriss himself.

Everyone agreed that the ex-soldier, who came out of the Army to become baseball's most fabulous yearling, might now be able to enjoy a full night's sleep.

"I have to hand it to him—he took it in great style," commented Dave's boss, Joe Cronin. "But the well-wishers were beginning to drive the poor kid crazy. Day and night, people hung around his hotel door. They wanted autographs, they wanted to take him out to dinner, they wanted him to meet the family or maybe speak at a lodge meeting."

"Dave hated to turn them down. In the past few weeks he has been fagged out—mentally and physically. Now that his streak is ended, I hope they leave him alone."

Eases Roommate's Life
Pete Fox, veteran outfielder, peered off a soaked sweatshirt and exclaimed:

"I am glad I want his roommate. Back in 1934, with Detroit, I was paired up with Schoolboy Rowe when he won his 16 straight. And believe me, mister, life was like an open exhibition. I'd wake up in the morning to find photographers dashing over my bed. They wanted pictures of how the Schoolboy looked when he got up in the morning. They wanted pictures of him brushing his teeth and coming out of the shower. He even had to eat dinner in his room to keep waiters and onlookers from gawking him for his signature."

"A couple of times I told him I was going to get out of that room and the Schoolboy would grab me with both hands and say, 'Nothing doing, Pete. As long as I keep winning nothing is going to be changed.'"

"When the Athletics finally knocked him off in his 17th try I went up to the Schoolboy and said, 'I don't know how you feel about it, but I'm glad it's over. Tonight we can get some sleep.'"

Is Superstitious
Ferriss, like Rowe, was susceptible to superstition during his streak. Joining the Sox as an unknown, he found all the clubhouse lockers occupied and was forced to hang his clothes on some pipes which protruded from the wall, next to the broom closet. Later a locker was made available but Ferriss politely declined. As long as he won, he insisted on hanging his clothes on those pipes.

Dave's most enthusiastic followers are friends and his family in Shaw, Miss. Everyone in his home town writes him, he says, and he

Although First Round End Near In Class A Softball, Picking A Winner Is Task

Although the first round of Class A softball should close officially Tuesday, five postponed games remain to be played off and, figure as you may, picking the round winner at this date is a near impossibility.

Riding the crest of the evenly-matched loop so far are the Salem News, with four wins and one loss, and Mullins, with three wins and one loss. Those teams, the only ones not beaten more than once, will decide something or other at 6 tonight at the park.

Regardless of which team wins tonight, there will still be a world of possibility for a grand free-for-all for the round title. The Recreation, Leetonia and the Salem China each has dropped but two frays and the chances are that the winner tonight may be in that class before the week is over.

Besides the Mullins fray tonight, the News face a stiff test with Demings at 6 next Monday. Demings, now using their ace-hurler Kenay Bruderly, could easily be the mixup key to the round race. Should the News defeat Mullins and Demings beat the News, the four or five way tie would be in full swing.

Mullins is in a tougher spot than the News. Besides meeting the league leaders in today's game they must play two other games, one with the Recreation at 6 Thursday and another with Demings at 6 Friday.

Other Games
Facing the other teams are equally as tough assignments. The China, also with two losses, has a set-to with the Eagles tonight, Leetonia at 7 Thursday and Sinclair at 7 Friday.

The Recreation can get back in the swim by pasting the Sinclairs tomorrow at 7 and defeating Mullins at 6 Thursday.

A host of top-notch games are in store this round. Leetonia, still a good possibility for round champion, must defeat Demings and the China to hold their two loss record and be ready for a second loss chance on the part of the two leading teams.

A detailed analysis of the situation is possible but deductions are highly questionable under the muddled circumstances. Although the News and Mullins are perched at the head of the win and loss column, both can fall quickly this week, and if they do the race will be as wide open once again as it was before play started this season.

COLUMBUS, June 18.—The current poultry shortage is caused in part by the prevalence of fowl paralysis among chickens, says Dr. David C. Hyde, state veterinarian of the Ohio Department of Agriculture.

JAP OFFICER

their commander, described by American officers as alert and intelligent said:
"I am turning you over to Col. Stent. You will be treated well. You are now prisoners of war. It is not a disgraceful state and you are not to regard it as such."
Last September a prisoner reported he had sought the Japanese officer's permission to surrender and had been told:
"I am thinking of doing the same thing myself."

Ask To Learn English
Stent rigged up a sound truck in the area. Just as the Japanese were believed about to give up, a young man came from the jungle. The Japanese admitted his country would not win the war and said he wanted to "sit out the war" in the Guam jungle. He was told that was impossible.

He left for further deliberation, agreeing to return a week later. He arrived with a retinue of hold-out troops who were taken to the command prison stockade. The first request of the Japanese field officer was that they be taught English. Surrender of these 34 Japanese on the first populated territory retaken from the enemy in this war was interpreted as the end of all enemy activity on Guam.

Awaits Son's Homecoming

Mother's Day will be June 21 for Mrs. Ida Stover Eisenhower, 83, when her famous son comes home to a hero's welcome. The modest home in which Mother Eisenhower lives has become a shrine to soldiers who throng into Abilene, Kansas, on weekends. Here she looks over a song dedicated to "The U. S. A." Family portraits grace the old-fashioned upright piano in the parlor, around which the Eisenhowers will gather for family reunion. In this room, General Eisenhower spent many happy boyhood hours.

In the meantime America must maintain a better balance on the subject by considering that the United States of today might well be confused if it were standing off watching the United States of the Mexican war or Nicaraguan occupation days or, more pertinently, 1919.
